The fund for Mrs. Garfield has reached $330,000. It is conjectured that it will run up to $400,000 or $500,000.

The election of a United States Senator to succeed the late General Burnside, will not take place till next week. The Legislature of Rhode Island was to have met on Monday for the purpose of electing a Senator, but on account of the funeral of President Garfield was adjourned for one week.

This is pretty good from Governor St. John, of Kansas. It has been charged that the population of that State has fallen off since the prohibition law went into effect, but the Governor says: "The only place where there has been any decrease of population is in the penitentiary, where there sixty-six less now than there were six months ago."

A few days ago a prominent German informed a correspondent of the Milwaukee Sentinel that Governor Rusk had pledged himself to the German delegates that if he was elected Governor he would veto every temperance measure. The General has written the following for publication.

VIROQUA, Sept. 21, 1881.—Jack Warner, Esq.—DEAR SIR: Yours of Sept. 23, saying the the Milwaukee Sentinel Madison special places me on record as having pledged myself to veto anything pertaining to temperance, is received. The Madison correspondent of the Sentinel has persistently misrepresented me ever since I became a candidate—one day saying that I was a radical temperance man and the next that was the very opposite. You ask me if I have made any such pledges, and I answer no.

Yours truly,
J. M. RUSK.

There all sorts of rumors afloat as to what course President Arthur will take in regard to the cabinet. There can hardly be any doubt that Secretary Blaine will ask to be relieved from the management of the State department, and it is said that within ten days he will ask the president to accept his resignation. For some time past Mr. Blaine's health has been poor, and this is the chief reason why he desires to leave the cabinet. The President and Blaine are personally very friendly and nothing of a personal nature will cause him to sever his connection with the cabinet. It is believed by those who are in a position to know, that there will be no radical changes in the formation of the cabinet. Unless the members prefer to leave than to remain with the administration, they will be retained. There are at least three men in the cabinet that the people, irrespective of party, would be glad to have retained—James, Wadsworth, and Lincoln.

The last chapter in the great tragedy will be the trial and the death of the assassin Guiteau. He won't be tried in the District of Columbia, the New Jersey authorities having waived the coroner's inquest at Elberon, and now will make no demand for the murderer. Some times New Jersey justice is swift, and there were many hopes that Guiteau would be tried there that he might earlier reach the halter. But there is hardly any danger that he will escape justice in the District of Columbia, though his trial may be delayed for several weeks. There is a certain sympathetic feeling trying to be worked up for this brazen fool. Because he assassinated a President, there are some who think he should be kept as a prisoner of State and treated with more consideration than District Attorney Corkill has treated Guiteau. He has not given him a carpet to tread on, nor a spring bed to sleep on. He has denied him intercourse with friends. He has not given him quail or toast. He has refused to give him newspapers to read, and has detained his mail, and in some cases has examined his letters. Mr. Corkill has treated Guiteau as if he was a criminal, and some say this is all illegal and unjust; and on this account it is said the counsel for Guiteau will get an extension of time in which to prepare for the defense, so that the trial will probably not come off before November or December.

THE COMING SESSION.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—It is thought by Senators who are here that the Senate will be organized at the approaching session without any faction or unseemly delay. The President this afternoon expressed a strong desire that the organization of the House be completed in a manner consistent with the dignity of the body, and that it should be done as speedily as possible. The Republican members will, it is believed, nominate in caucus a candidate for President pro tem., and will vote for him, but will make no contest against the election of a Democratic President pro tem., if the Democrats should be found to be in a majority when the Senate meets.

The nomination of Senator Bayard by the Democrats is conceded, while it is regarded as probable that Senator Anthony will be nominated by the Republicans. Should Senator Ben Hill and Slater be unable to be present, and should David Davis vote with Republicans on this occasion, the result would be a tie vote.

the attending physicians, to testify as to the effect of the shot and subsequent death. Of the witness, there will be Secretaries Blaine, Wadsworth, Lincoln, the Postmaster General and the Attorney General. James R. Young, of the Philadelphia Star, George W. Adams, of the Washington Star, M. Commins, minister from Venezuela, Drs. Bliss, Boynton, Agnew and Hamilton and General Swaine. It is thought an indictment will be found by next Tuesday. Judge Cox will preside at the trial, and as soon as the indictment is found he will hold the assassin for the criminal term to plead to the indictment. This part of the proceeding will likely take place very quietly that the mob may not have a chance to seize Guiteau and murder him on the streets. He is sane enough to know that it would not be safe to attempt to take him from jail to court during the continuance of the trial, and the feeling in Washington is that he is right. Just how this will be managed is not known. Judge Cox, of the Supreme Court of the District, is an able judge, and as righteous and fearless as he is able, and will not grant a change of venue.

THE ASSASSIN.

WASHINGTON, D. C., September 27.—Guiteau will be tried before the supreme court of the District of Columbia. The district attorney, in bringing him before this court, is aware that there is a decision which holds that the court has no jurisdiction in cases where the offense has begun here and death has followed elsewhere. This decision, however, was given many years ago, and the more recent authorities are all in favor of the jurisdiction of a court over an offender in the place where the offense was begun. If Guiteau has counsel, it is not unlikely the question may be carried up before final sentence shall be pronounced upon him. The District Attorney has but little doubt that Guiteau's defense will be insanity, and even if he should desire to plead guilty he will not be allowed to, as the court generally refuses to accept such a plea in a capital case.

Guiteau has had several offers from lawyers in different parts of the country to defend, some of them men of fair reputation. The great question, however, is whether Guiteau can be taken from the jail to the court and back again without being mobbed. Threats have been made to lynch him, and every effort will be made to protect him from violence. The army however cannot be used for such purposes, although the District militia might be called out in case of riot. The militia have been instructed, in case of a signal of six fire-bells, three flames, to report to their armories instantly.

GIFTS TO GRANT.

NEW YORK, Sept. 27.—Mrs. U. S. Grant is busy in this city unpacking numerous cases containing President Grant's presents. When General Grant gave up his life house in I street, Washington, all the presents he had received up to that time were packed and stored. He has now eighty-two cases of valuables to be unpacked. Mrs. Grant recently said she did not really know how much the family had. The magnificent service of silver presented by Mexico to Grant the time he became President, and by him transferred to his wife, has been ordered from the vaults of the bank where it was deposited, and will be used for the first time in what is termed "Grant's New York Palace."

The service of silver is said to be finer than that owned by G. W. Childs. Grant will have in his new home a side-board that will arouse the envy of all lovers of unique furniture. It is made of Mexican onyx, and was presented to him by Mexico. It is the rarest and costliest buffet in New York. The parlors of the new house will be crowded with presents, some of which will be kept in burglar-proof safes. Colonel and Mrs. Fred Grant, with their two children, will reside with their parents. Mr. and Mrs. Ulysses Grant, Jr., will reside in the Chaffee mansion. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Grant reside in an elegant flat. Mr. and Mrs. Sartoris and their three children are expected in New York next month, and it is probable they will also make their home here. The value of the presents contained in Grant's treasure-boxes is fixed by the gossips at a fabulous sum.

REDBANK, N. J., September 27.—The legal authorities of Monmouth county have addressed the attorney-general of the State and the attorney-general of the United States upon the propriety of filing counts before the grand jury of Monmouth county against Guiteau for the murder of President Garfield. It is held that a waiver of the coroner's inquest by the State does not deprive the grand jury of its power to indict a criminal.

It is said that a single shepherd and his dog will accomplish more in gathering a herd of sheep from a Highland farm than twenty shepherds could do without dogs; and it is a fact that without this docile animal the pastoral life would be a mere blank. Without the shepherd's dog the whole of the mountainous land in Scotland would not be worth a sixpence. It would require more hands to manage a stock of sheep, gather them from the hills, force them into houses and drive to market than the profits of the whole stock would be capable of maintaining. Well may the shepherd feel an interest in his dog; he is, indeed, that earns the family's bread, of which he himself is content with the smallest morsel; always grateful and always ready to exert his utmost abilities in his master's interest. Neither hunger, fatigue, nor the worst treatment will drive him from his side. He will follow him through fire and water, as the saying is, and through every hardship with-out murmuring or repining, until he literally falls dead at his feet. If one of them is obliged to change masters, it is sometimes long before he will acknowledge the new one, or condescend to work for him with the same willingness he did for his former lord; but if he once acknowledges him, he continues attached to him until death, and though naturally proud and high spirited, in so far as relates to his master, these qualities are kept so much in subordination that he has not a will of his own.

Should the weather come off pleasant for the balance of the week as promised now, the State fair of 1881 will be a most notable success.

Should Senator Ben Hill and Slater be unable to be present, and should David Davis vote with Republicans on this occasion, the result would be a tie vote.

Should this occur the result might be the election of Dr. Davis. The Republicans, however, will not consent to the election of a clerk until the three vacancies from New York and Rhode Island are filled. The first act of the newly elected President, however, the Republicans contend, will be to administer the oath to the Senators-elect. The Republicans are prepared with documents in the cases of Ohio and Indiana, to show that the clerk of the Senate is not necessary to make the official record, for in these two cases, the chief clerk made that record.

GARFIELD IN WALL STREET.

How He Stopped the Frenzy of a Mob, the Day After the Assassination of Lincoln.

By this time the waves of popular indignation had swelled to its crest. Two men lay bleeding on one of the side streets, the one dead, the other in the gutter. They had said a moment before that "Lincoln ought to have been shot long ago!" They were not allowed to say it again. Soon two long pieces of scatting stood out above the heads of the crowd, crossed at the top like the letter X, and a looped halter pendant from the junction, a dozen men following its slow motion through the masses while "Vengeance" was the cry. On the right, suddenly, the shout arose "The World! The World! World!" and a movement of perhaps eight thousand or ten thousand turning their faces in the direction of that building began to be executed. It was a critical moment. What might come, no one could tell, did that crowd get in front of that office. Police and military would have availed little or been too late. A telegram had just been read from Washington; Seward was dying. Just at that juncture a man stepped forward with a small flag in his hand and beckoned to the crowd, "Another telegram from Washington!" And then in the awful stillness of the crisis, taking advantage of the hesitation of the crowd whose steps had been arrested for a moment, a right arm was lifted skyward, and a voice, clear and steady, loud and distinct, spoke out: "Follow citizens! Clouds and darkness are round about him! His pavilion is dark water and thick clouds of the skies! Justice and judgment are the establishment of His throne! Mercy and truth shall go before his face! Follow citizens! God reigns, and the government at Washington still lives!" The effect was tremendous. The crowd stood riveted to the ground in awe, gazing at the motionless orator and thinking of God and the security of the government at that hour. As the boiling wave subsides and settles to the sea, when some strong wind beats it down, so the tumult of the mob sank and became still. All took it as a divine omen. It was a triumph of eloquence inspired by the moment, such as falls to one man's lot, and that but once in a century. The genius of Webster, Choate, Estes and Seward never equalled it. What might have happened had the surging and turbulent mob been let loose none can tell. The man for the crisis was on the spot, more potent than were Napoleon's guns at Paris. I inquired what was his name. The answer came in a low whisper: "It's General Garfield, of Ohio."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

CHICAGO LETTER.

Special Correspondence of the Gazette.

Chicago, Sept. 24.—John Walter, the proprietor of the London Times, and other English gentlemen, paid Chicago a visit the present week. Meeting him in the Palmer house, on Wednesday last, your correspondent asked him, "What do you think of Chicago since your last visit in 1865?" "How does England feel with respect to our National calamity—the assassination and death of President Garfield?" Mr. Walter replied substantially as follows: "Your city has increased in business and everything else for exceeding my most sanguine expectations. I predict that eventually it will be the first city on this continent. You have buildings here that would be a credit to any city in the world. Your theaters, hotels, churches, and other public buildings are gems, while your citizens are models of enterprise. I visited your chamber of commerce to-day, and I must confess that an era of forgetfulness possessed me, for the time being, with respect to my past life. I seemed to be in a new world, surrounded by a new race of beings, in human form, endowed with muscles and lungs far superior to common mortals, and whose only ambition seemed to be, which could hold the longest. Yes, Chicago's prestige with all nations is now fully secured, and with England more especially."

You ask in regard to England's sympathy with this country in her great calamity. Rest assured, my dear sir, that between the two nations takes place now, more than ever before. Your beloved President was most dearly honored and respected, not only all over Britain, but throughout Europe as well. English sorrow is second only to your own, and her sympathy flows as the ocean waves westward to this stricken land. Yes, we all deeply loved President Garfield and his most noble wife and family, and through them more than ever before, the American nation and people." Two of his party will remain in Chicago on their return from the far west, and go into partnership with Edward Dinsmore in the grain and provision business, looking towards supplying England's future requirements.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

AT CLINTON.

The union memorial services at the Congregational church, at 2 p.m., Monday was appropriate and impressive. The front entrance and vestibule of the church were draped with emblems of mourning and festooned with the American flag; as was also the orchestra and windows, while the pulpit and stands in front were ornamented with wreaths and garlands of flowers. The pastors of the several churches had short and appropriate addresses. Dr. Bowes gave a brief outline of the biography of the departed President, tracing his career in well chosen words from his cradle to his grave. Elder Peet dwelt upon the heroism of the man as evinced by his pure and manly life and Christian character. Elder Marston spoke of the sympathy created by his suffering and death, both at home and abroad, and related many instances that came under his own observation while in Europe the past summer. The choir had made most excellent selections and contributed much to the interest of the services. The house was crowded, and the sad countenances and tearful eyes of the assembly indicated how deeply the people feel their loss, and how strong a hold Garfield had on their affections.

AT JOHNSTOWN CENTER.

Memorial services were held at the church in this place on Sunday. The church was beautifully draped and the bier tastefully arranged by some of the ladies of the congregation. A portrait of the deceased President was hung from the pulpit, and it was richly draped with grape and looped with bows of beautiful flowers. The discourse by Mrs. N. E. Servis was an able one, and was listened to with marked attention throughout, by the large audience assembled. Many were affected to tears as the incidents of the last days of the martyred President were narrated by the speaker, and the service was a solemn and impressive one. A deep feeling of sorrow rested upon the people throughout the country, and a deep and earnest sympathy is felt for the bereaved family.

AT MILTON.

Until Monday morning no arrangements had been made to observe the late President's funeral in a proper manner, but early in the day President Williams of the college faculty, who had just returned from Chicago, took the matter in hand, and with the assistance of a few of the citizens and students made it a grand success. The Seventh Day Baptist church, at which the services were held, was appropriately trimmed and draped, and a large portrait of General Garfield placed in front of the pulpit. At 2 o'clock a processional composed of the college faculty, students, and citizens, marched from college campus to the church, and that spacious building was soon filled by a reverent assemblage, come together to honor the memory of the Nation's dead. After brief remarks from President Williams, the following programme was in order: Music under the direction of Prof. N. W. Williams, Reading of scripture by President Williams, Prayer by Rev. J. Bailey. "The character of Garfield" by Rev. Mr. Hollingshead, "Garfield as a soldier," by W. P. Clark. "The lessons taught by the death of our Martyr President," President Williams. Music. Rev. E. M. Dunn then made a few remarks, and after music the audience were dismissed. The business places in the village were closed, and the citizens generally observed the hour. The collegians and the pupils of the graded school were given a vacation.

AT MILLION JUNCTION.

The memorial sermon on Sunday afternoon at the S. D. B. church by Rev. Mr. Hollingshead, Pastor of the Congregational church was worthy of the occasion.

His text was 2d Samuel 31 chapter and 38th verse, "and the King said know ye not there is a Prince and a great man fallen this day in Israel?" His sermon was truly eloquent, his utterances at times impassioned and forcible, he evidently felt the inspiration of the life and character of the Christian Patriot and ruler whom he eulogized. His audience seemed in full sympathy with the occasion and the speaker's words drew tones of genuine sorrow from many eyes.

hung and shadowed by large folds of black and white Crepe.

AT JOHNSTOWN.

The Congregational church was very tastily draped on Sunday last, the ladies to whom the credit was due, being Mrs. A. W. Wells, Mrs. Henry Hay, and Mrs. L. F. Fletcher, who also decorated the church at Johnstown Center. There was a very large audience, and a befitting address by Rev. Mr. Jackson was very closely listened to.

AT EMERSON GROVE.

The memorial services held here last Sabbath drew a large concourse of people here, filling the Congregational church to overflowing. The church was tastily draped; the Messrs. McKey, of Junesville, generously tendering the use of some goods for the occasion. The discourse was preached by Rev. D. B. Jackson, on the text "How are the mighty fallen."

AT OXFORDVILLE.

Memorial services were held at the M. E. church at this place, at 2 o'clock p.m., conducted by the Rev. G. W. Lincoln, of the Baptist church, in the absence of the pastor, who is attending the annual conference at Whitewater. The church was tastily draped in mourning and wall filled. A portrait of President Garfield properly draped, hung upon the wall. The services commenced by the choir singing the hymn, "Asleep in Jesus." Rev. Lincoln read the same selections of scripture that were read at the services at Long Branch. Prayer by Rev. D. Abbott. After another hymn by the choir the Hon. D. Howe, gave a short address, at the same time reading a biographical sketch of the President's life, which he had prepared for the occasion. A eulogy accompanied by personal reminiscences was then pronounced by Dr. Johnson. Rev. J. C. Gifford followed with an extempore address, supplemented by a short and appropriate sermon by Rev. Mr. Lincoln from the text "But it shall come to pass that at evening time it shall be light." Elder Lincoln then called for resolutions, but as none were offered he read a series of resolutions which were adopted at Milwaukee, and which the congregation accepted as expressions of their feelings by rising on mause with bowed heads. A voluntary by the choir and the benediction closed the services.

AT OXFORDVILLE.

The concert at the M. E. church was largely attended. The entertainment on the main was good, but the great effort of the evening was the essay read by Miss Julia A. Richardson.

A few of the young people were invited to spend the afternoon and evening of Saturday, Sept. 21, at the residence of the Rev. J. C. Gifford. All report an enjoyable time and it could not well be otherwise, because Mr. and Mrs. G. fully understand how to entertain company, and they were assisted by their son, who was home taking a rest from his studies.

—Miss Clara Gough is in Broadhead attending school, where she expects to remain for some time.

—Miss Libbie Laeey has gone to Junesville to learn the millinery trade.

—At the grand raffle Mrs. Sedgwick was found to be the best woman, as she won the picture, and Art. Smiley carried off the plug hit.

—Cupid is throwing his dart.

—All mourn the death of President Garfield.

—Miss Julia A. Richardson has been making it her home in Oxfordville, acting in the capacity of teacher the past summer. Miss Richardson was one of the graduates of the class of '73 at the Godard Seminary, Barre, Vermont. She has finished her labors as teacher here and returned to her home in Washington, Vt. As a teacher and as a lady Miss Richardson stood high in this village.

Incredible.

—Rev. Mr. Starch, druggist, Rathron, Ont., writes: "I have the greatest confidence in your Hop-Bitter Blood Bitters. In one case with which I am personally acquainted their success was almost incredible. One lady told me that half a bottle did her more good than hundreds of dollars worth of medicine she had previously taken." Price, $1.00, trial size.

THE TEMPERANCE ISSUE.

To the Editor:

We regretted to see the cold shoulder turned as it was by the State convention to the reasonable resolutions of the friends of temperance, to submit to the people the question of prohibition.

And we were humiliated to see a respectable portion of our Rock county delegates, aid by their influence and votes in consummating this act, by supporting a substitute submitted for the purpose of defeating the above resolutions, that the question be submitted to their constituents, the people of Wisconsin.

It was simply a right and not a privilege, that the friends of temperance in the convention asked, and for the great Republican party to deny it, was a wrong, if it persisted in, will result in driving out an earnest and conscientiously honest portion of the party, that cannot well be spared.

We were always a temperance Republican, yet not so fanatical as to deny that pure liquor is a necessary stimulant, and good ale an excellent tonic, if judiciously used, for medicinal purposes; nor could we ever deny to the people the right to decide in a peaceable and legitimate manner any question of public good.

But inasmuch as the Republican party of Wisconsin in convention assembled, have adopted a resolution that the State legislature is a competent and the proper tribunal to decide the question of submitting to the people the question of prohibition, and that in the exercise of this right they should be untrammeled by party resolutions;

And whereas the selection and the election of our representatives to the legislature is at hand. Therefore we would say to the people of the old banner temperance Republican county of Rock, see to it, that you are not misrepresented on this issue in the coming of any future legislature of Wisconsin.

Skin Disease.

F. H. Drake, Esq., Detroit, Mich., suffered long and severely from a skin disease which affected him on his hands, head and face, and nearly destroyed his eyes. The most careful doctoring failed to help him, and after all had failed turned to the Cuticura Resolvent internally. Cuticura and Cuticura Soap externally. He was cured, and has remained perfectly well to this day.

SCROFULA.

Hon. Wm. Taylor, Boston, says: "After three months use of the Cuticura Remedies, and 12 months of constant suffering from humor of the face, neck and scalp as was ever endured, I can now say that I am perfectly well again, and most remarkably restored. I have been so exhausted by my sickness that I have stopped men on the street who were collected and told them to get the Cuticura Remedies and they would cure them."

SKIN HUMORS.

Mrs. S. E. Whipple, Decatur, Mich., writes that her hand, head and some parts of her body were almost raw. Head covered with scabs and sores. Severe tenitis, and tried everything. Permanently cured by Cuticura Remedies.

One thousand tons Sugar Cane wanted. Kent's Syrup works are running day and night, crushing 30 tons of cane every 24 hours. Their capacity is such that growers can get their cane worked up immediately on its being delivered at the mill, thus saving the necessary loss caused by letting it dry for a number of days which in many cases causes them to lose half their crop of syrup. A load of cane which will yield from twelve to twenty gallons of syrup, if worked up immediately after cutting, will not yield more than six to ten gallons after laying ten days.

Arrangements have been made for running a special train from here to the State Fair at Fond du Lac Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday of next week, the train leaving here at 7 o'clock in the morning arriving at Fond du Lac at 11 o'clock, and returning to leave Fond du Lac at 6:30 p. m. and arrive here at 10:15 p. m.
